The Issue

St. Louis Public Schools (SLPS) claims that the State has overpaid the charter schools in St. Louis by $42 million.

SLPS wants the State of Missouri to refund these monies.

In order to refund these monies, the State would have to take the money from the charter schools in St. Louis.

The Impact

If successful, the SLPS's actions could cause the closure of many of the charter schools in St. Louis.

At the very least, every charter school child could have their annual funding cut by over $800.00.

Charter schools are united in ensuring a quality education for all students.

MAKE YOUR VOICES HEARD

Call the SLPS District Superintendent's Office: 314.345.2296.
Tweet @SLPS_INFO and @SLPS_SUPT using #DropTheSuit.
Facebook message to https://www.facebook.com/stlpublicschools/
Write a letter to the St. Louis Public Schools Special Administrative Board at 801 North 11th Street, St. Louis, MO 63101.
Donate to help St. Louis charter schools with this important issue.

For more information go to www.mocharterschools.org